The deck sorting process can be separated into two different stages.

A. Splitting

1. Split the deck in half and hand the two halves to two different people.
2. If you have more than one card, go to step 1.

B. Receiving

1. If you have one card, give your card back to the person that gave it to you.
2. Otherwise, if you have more than one card, combine the two sorted decks that you have by (assume the lowest value card is on the top, face-up):
 - i. Compare the top card in each deck and put the lower value card face-down on the table in a pile.
 - ii. Repeat (i) until you run out of cards in one deck.
 - iii. Put the remaining cards face-down on the pile.
 - iv. Flip your sorted pile face-up.
3. Give the sorted face-up deck back to the person who gave you the cards.
